Cap. 279.

[2nd April, 1889.]

Short title.

1. This Law may be cited as the Shipwrecked Passengers Law.

Interpretation.

2. In this Law—

“passenger ship” means every description of sea-going vessel carrying one or more passenger or passengers on any voyage from any place in Her Majesty's dominions to any place whatever.

Expenses of receiving
shipwrecked
passengers.

3. If any passengers of any passenger ship shall be rescued from shipwreck either by being taken off the ship or by being picked up at sea from any boat, raft, or otherwise, and the port or place to which they are conveyed is in Cyprus, the Governor or any person authorized by him for the purpose may defray all or any part of the expenses thereby incurred.

Governor
may send on passengers if master of ship fails to do so.

4. If any passenger on any passenger ship shall without any neglect or default of his own find himself in any port or place in Cyprus other than that for which the ship was originally bound, or at which he or any other person on his behalf may have contracted that he should land, the Governor or any person authorized by him for such purpose may forward him to his intended destination, unless the master of the ship shall within forty-eight hours of the
