PRE-AMBLE

This pre-amble as far as is relevant, forms part of these rules.

Registered persons and architectural practices are subject to the disciplinary supervision of the council.

The rules lay down standards of professional conduct and practice and whereas not every non-compliance with a provision may necessarily constitute grounds for disciplinary proceedings, failure to follow the guidance of the rules, will be taken into account should it become necessary to examine the conduct or competence of a registered person.

It is an overriding obligation under the rules that in carrying out professional work, a registered person is expected to act competently and with integrity.

The fact that a course of conduct is not specifically referred to in the rules does not mean that it cannot form the basis of disciplinary proceedings. In this context, the council will investigate any complaint of unacceptable professional conduct i.e. conduct which falls short of the standard required of a registered person, or of serious professional incompetence.

It is therefore expected that a registered person shall refrain from conduct, which would in the opinion of the council be detrimental to the esteem, dignity and/or professionalism of the architectural profession or would tend to bring the architectural profession into disrepute.

If an architectural practice is in breach of any provision of or any rule published in terms of the Act which would have constituted improper or unprofessional conduct if committed by a registered person in the carrying on of his or her profession as a natural person in private practice, the council shall proceed against the principal officer of the practice.

The council shall consider any complaint in terms of these rules whether such conduct took place before or after their promulgation.
