

Children (Equal Protection from Assault) (Scotland) Act 2019

2019 asp 16

The Bill for this Act of the Scottish Parliament was passed by the Parliament on 3rd October 2019 and received Royal Assent on 7th November 2019

An Act of the Scottish Parliament to abolish the defence of reasonable chastisement; and for connected purposes.

1 Abolition of defence of reasonable chastisement

- (1) The rule of law, that the physical punishment of a child in the exercise of a parental right or a right derived from having charge or care of the child is justifiable and is therefore not an assault, ceases to have effect.
- (2) Section 51 (physical punishment of children) of the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2003 is repealed.

2 Duty of Scottish Ministers to raise awareness

The Scottish Ministers must take such steps as they consider appropriate to promote public awareness and understanding about the effect of section 1.

3 Transitional and saving provision

- (1) Section 1 does not apply to anything done before the day on which that section comes into force.
- (2) Accordingly—
 - (a) the rule of law mentioned in section 1(1), and
 - (b) section 51 of the Criminal Justice (Scotland) Act 2003,continue to have effect for the purposes of any proceedings ongoing on, or brought on or after, the day section 1 comes into force which relate to an alleged assault on a child committed before that day.
- (3) The Scottish Ministers may by regulations make such further transitional, transitory or saving provision as they consider necessary or expedient in connection with the coming into force of section 1.
