

Building Trust in a Changing World of Work

The Global Deal for Decent Work and Inclusive Growth Flagship Report 2018

DISCLAIMER NOTE

This work is published under the responsibility of the Secretary-General of the OECD and the Director-General of the ILO. The opinions expressed and the arguments employed herein do not necessarily reflect the official views of the OECD member countries, the ILO member states or the Global Deal partners.

This document, as well as any data and any map included herein, are without prejudice to the status of or sovereignty over any territory, to the delimitation of international frontiers and boundaries and to the name of any territory, city or area.

Global Deal session at the World Economic Forum Sustainable Development Impact Summit in New York - September 2017
© World Economic Forum

Acknowledgements

This first Flagship Report contributes to the “Global Deal for Decent Work and Inclusive Growth”, an initiative launched in 2016 by Swedish Prime Minister Stefan Löfven as a concrete input to the UN 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development. The Global Deal is a multi-stakeholder partnership which brings together governments, businesses and employers’ organisations, trade unions, international organisations and associations representing civil society around a shared objective. This shared objective consists in developing and harnessing the potential of social dialogue and sound industrial relations as instruments for promoting decent work and job quality in line with Sustainable Development Goal 8 on Decent Work and Economic Growth, and thereby fostering greater equality and more Inclusive Growth in line with Sustainable Development Goal 10 on Reduced Inequalities.

This report was co-written by the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) and the International Labour Organization (ILO), and coordinated by the Global Deal Support Unit located in the Swedish Ministry of Foreign Affairs. It was prepared under the supervision of Gabriela Ramos (OECD Chief of Staff and G20 Sherpa), Stefano Scarpetta (OECD Director for Employment, Labour and Social Affairs), Mark Pearson (OECD Deputy-Director for Employment, Labour and Social Affairs) and Romina Boarini (Coordinator of the OECD Inclusive Growth Initiative); James Howard (Senior Adviser to the ILO Director-General); and Sofia Östmark (Ambassador and Coordinator of the Global Deal Initiative).

The report benefitted from comments and review by a panel of Senior Advisors to the Global Deal including Olivier Blanchard, Natalia Brzezinski, Sharan Burrow, Sabina Dewan, Jason Furman, José Antonio Ocampo and Emmanuelle Wargon. Reflecting its joint and collaborative nature, this report draws on contributions from the ILO, the OECD Directorate for Employment, Labour and Social Affairs and the OECD Inclusive Growth Initiative. Chapter 1 was written by the ILO. Chapter 2 was written by the OECD. Chapters 3 and 4 were jointly written by the ILO and OECD.

The ILO team consisted of Susan Hayter (Office of the Deputy Director-General for Policy), Chris Land-Kazlauskas (Fundamental Principles and Rights at Work Branch – FUNDAMENTALS), Andrea Marinucci (Inclusive Labour Markets, Labour Relations and Working Conditions Branch – INWORK), Ambra Migliore (FUNDAMENTALS), Silvia Possenti (INWORK), Dora Sari (external consultant) and Tvisha Shroff (Labour Law and Reform Unit). Contributions were also received from Youcef Ghellab (Social Dialogue and Tripartism Unit – DIALOGUE) and Nancy Varela (DIALOGUE). The report benefitted from comments by Beate Andrees (FUNDAMENTALS), Philippe Marcadent (INWORK), Damian Grimshaw (Research Department) and John Ritchotte (INWORK).

The OECD team consisted of Sandrine Cazes (Jobs and Income Division, ELS), Andrea Garnero (Jobs and Income Division, ELS) and Neil Martin (Inclusive Growth Unit, SGE). The OECD team wishes to thank Stéphane Carcillo (Head of the OECD Jobs and Income Division) for his support and guidance throughout the development of this report.

The authors are also grateful to the following contributors for providing editorial assistance, comments, substantive inputs and production support: Paul Gallagher (Cheary & Gallagher); Steve Gibbons (Ergon Associates); Cecilia Andersson, Ylva Norén and Josefin Unger Belin (Global Deal Support Unit); Thomas Janson and Tanja Olsson Blandy (Swedish Ministry of Employment); Froukje Boele, Ana Fueyo, Mohamed Hammouch, Sandrine Levain, Dorothy Lovell, Sam Mealy, Alexander Pick, Angelica Salvi del Pero and Caroline Tassot (OECD).

Table of contents

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY	7
INTRODUCTION	10
What is the 'Global Deal for Decent Work and Inclusive Growth'?.....	10
Why is the Global Deal partnership needed?.....	10
The key elements of the Global Deal and how this report supports them.....	11
How to become part of the Global Deal?	12
The aim of the Flagship Report.....	12
 CHAPTER I - SOCIAL DIALOGUE AND INDUSTRIAL RELATIONS	15
1.1. What do we mean by industrial relations and social dialogue?	17
1.2. The enabling framework	19
1.2.1. The foundations	19
1.2.2. The building blocks	21
1.3. The actors: governments and social partners	23
1.3.1. Trade unions	23
1.3.2. Employers' organisations	26
1.3.3. Governments	28
1.4. The processes: forms of social dialogue.....	29
1.4.1. Workplace cooperation.....	29
1.4.2. Collective bargaining	31
1.4.3. Tripartite social dialogue.....	37
1.4.4. Social dialogue at the regional and international levels.....	39
1.4.5. Sound industrial relations	40
1.5. Enhancing the inclusiveness of labour protection through social dialogue.....	41
1.5.1. The actors: expanded solidarities	41
1.5.2. Trade unions are extending organisational resources.....	42
1.5.3. Employers' organisations offer new value proposition to MSMEs.....	45
1.5.4. The processes: enhancing the inclusiveness of labour relations.....	45
1.5.5. Clarifying the employment relationship and facilitating transition from informal to formal	45

1.5.6. Inclusive wage policies: combining protective and participative standards.....	46
1.5.7. Inclusive collective bargaining and policy-based extension of collective agreements.....	48
1.5.8. Managing transition	49

CHAPTER II – COLLECTIVE BARGAINING FOR INCLUSIVE GROWTH 53

Introduction: Collective bargaining as a means to achieve social and economic progress ..	54
2.1. The framework	55
2.2. The economics of collective bargaining	56
2.3. The main features of collective bargaining systems in OECD countries.....	59
2.4. Empirical evidence on the link between collective bargaining and labour market performance: A review of the main existing studies.....	60
2.4.1. Collective bargaining, wages, employment and inequalities.....	60
2.4.2. Collective bargaining and productivity	63
2.4.3. Collective bargaining and labour market outcomes: new evidence from macro data	64
2.5. The role of social dialogue in emerging and developing economies	67
2.5.1. Labour markets in developing and emerging economies: A rapid overview.....	67
2.5.2. Improving labour market outcomes in developing and emerging economies	72
2.5.3. Social dialogue in the context of global supply chains: The role of Responsible Business Conduct.....	75
2.6. A selection of case studies drawn from the OECD Guidelines for Multinational Enterprises	77
2.6.1. Introduction	77
2.6.2. Case studies of specific instances	78
First case: UNI/ITF and DP-DHL/Bonn	79
Second case: Central Unitaria de Trabajadores de Chile, Sindicato de Trabajadores de Starbucks Coffee Chile S.A. and Starbucks Coffee	81
2.6.3. Discussion – The NCPs as a mechanism for enhancing social dialogue.....	83

CHAPTER III: SHOWCASING GLOBAL DEAL COMMITMENTS	87
3.1. The Global Deal: Voluntary commitments to promote social dialogue for decent work and inclusive growth	88
3.2. Overview of the commitments received	90
3.3. Commitments by type of actor	91
3.3.1 Commitments by national governments	92
3.3.2 Commitments by trade unions	94
3.3.3 Commitments by businesses and employers' organisations	97
3.3.4 Commitments by other stakeholders	100
3.4. Follow-up to Global Deal commitments	102
 CHAPTER IV: LOOKING AHEAD – PROMOTING GOOD PRACTICES AND REBUILDING TRUST	105
4.1. Key conclusion from the Report	106
4.2. Looking ahead - The role of social dialogue in the future of work	108
4.3. What role for the Global Deal partnership?	110
4.4. Conclusions	113
 ANNEX	115
Annex I: Global Deal commitment template	116
Annex II: List of Global Deal commitments received as of April 2018	118
Annex III: Full list of Global Deal partners	137
 REFERENCES	138
References chapter I:	138

预览已结束，完整报告链接和二维码如下：

https://www.yunbaogao.cn/report/index/report?reportId=5_22586

