Note by the Secretariat on Commitments of Actions in support of a Pollution-Free Planet

The Third session of the United Nations Environment Assembly will take place in Nairobi, from 4 to 6 December 2017 on the theme, “Towards a Pollution-Free Planet.”

Member States, businesses, citizens, mayors, local governments, partnerships, civil society organizations are invited to make voluntary commitments of actions in support of a “Pollution-Free Planet”.

The commitments of actions:

- may target any or all of the following pollution risk areas: air, water, land, coastal and marine, chemicals and waste;
- may consist of concrete targets or actions designed to avoid, reduce, mitigate, measure, monitor, report, and/or manage pollution;
- may include, quantifiable information in the form of targets or actions, including commitment period and timeframe for implementation and;
- can be new or can have already been made; in this case, for the commitment to be taken into account, progress made will need to be reported on to the Secretariat.

The entity making the commitment will need to commit to report on the progress made towards achievement.

The commitments of action should be communicated to the UN Environment Secretariat to enable inclusion in the background report prepared for the UN Environment Assembly and/or announcements in the months preceding or at the Assembly itself.

Stocktaking of commitments of action will be made as of 15 June, 30 September and 30 November to enable commitments to be included in the background document prepared for the Assembly or to be announced. Early announcements are encouraged with a view to keep up the momentum.

A standard questionnaire to record the commitment will be made available on line through the UN Environment Assembly web platform, and will also be available as a downloadable word document. The Secretariat will accept both commitments made on line and those recorded on paper.

A specific email address will be created to receive the commitments which cannot be made online.

Two draft templates are attached for comments. One template is for voluntary commitments by Government, parliamentarians, law enforcement entities and judges and another is for businesses, private sector entities and associations.
