Indemnity: ESCAP has used due care in preparing this document. However, since the data has been provided by third parties, ESCAP gives no warranty whatsoever as to the accuracy, reliability, fitness for purpose or otherwise of the data.

The designations employed and the presentation of the material in this publication do not imply the expression of any opinion whatsoever on the part of the Secretariat of the United Nations concerning the legal status of any country, territory, city or area or of its authorities, or concerning the delimitation of its frontiers or boundaries. Mention of firm names and commercial products does not imply the endorsement of the United Nations.

On 1 July 1997, Hong Kong became Hong Kong, China. Mention of "Hong Kong" in the text refers to a date prior to 1 July 1997.

On 20 December 1999, Macau became Macao, China. Mention of "Macau" in the text refers to a date prior to 20 December 1999.

Mention of firm names and commercial products does not imply the endorsement of the United Nations.

The term "billion" signifies a thousand million.

The term "ton" signifies metric ton unless otherwise indicated.

Unless otherwise stated, current United States dollars have been used throughout.

This document is an abstract of the Asia-Pacific Transport Database which includes data from 1980-2002. Both the database and the current document are available at www.unescap.org/tctd/data/index.asp and www.unescap.org/tctd/data/index2.asp. This document reports the status as of 8 November 2002. The online versions are updated on a regular basis.

Notes after all data take the following form: Data^{a,b,c,d} where a: original source, b: secondary source, c: footnote or comment, and d: number of alternative data available in the database (if any). See Annex 2 for details.

Please direct all comments and data updates to the secretariat, preferably in electronic format to tctidd.unescap@un.org. Thank you very much.
