

Covid-19 Situation Peru

30 November, 2020

Context

Francisco Sagasti was elected and appointed Peru's interim President by Congress on 15 November after the impeachment of President Vizcarra on 9 November and subsequent appointment of Manuel Merino as interim President. These changes unleashed nationwide protests, which left dozens of injured and two deaths. International bodies expressed their concerns regarding the arbitrary use of force in Peru during protests and a mission of the United Nations for Human Rights in South America was deployed in the country to assess the impact of the political crisis and the alleged abuse of force during the demonstrations.

On 18 November, Sagasti introduced his new Cabinet. UNHCR has already held meetings with the new authorities from relevant Ministries to confirm their support and brief them on the situation as required, to ensure the most vulnerable refugees and migrants have access to quality services through public systems.

The number of COVID19 positive cases has amounted to 960,370 so far with a steady decline that places Peru in the twelfth position globally and sixth in the region. Yet, the country remains first in the number of deaths per capita with over 35,920. As preventive measures, the Government has extended the National Health State of Emergency until 6 March 2021, as well as the extension of telework until July 2021, and banned social, political and cultural gatherings. Access to the beaches has also been restricted during weekends, while the nightly curfew continues to be in force from midnight to 4:00 a.m.

Asylum-seekers, refugees and migrants situation

UNHCR met with the Foreign Ministry and the National Superintendence of Migration regarding the access of asylum seekers to a Humanitarian Residence, which would be free for the beneficiaries and allow them greater access to public services such as education, health and employment. The cost estimated for documentation reaching nearly 500,000 asylum seekers is USD 6.5M. The support of the international community is key to moving forward, with UNHCR and IOM planning to support with some USD 2M.

Since the Special Commission for Refugees (CEPR for its acronym in Spanish) resumed the online asylum registration system on 22 June, some 42,800 asylum-seekers have lodged their claims and received a virtual work permit, representing over 50,400 asylum-seekers out of which 32,780 are in Lima.

Over 1,600 activities on psychosocial support and empowerment to mitigate Sexual Gender-Based Violence (SGBV) and case referrals have been carried out through UNHCR and partners. Additionally, in Tumbes, UNHCR participated in a meeting organized by UNFPA to validate a guide to managing SGBV cases. Representatives of different organizations identified gaps regarding access to the national SGBV survivor protection system such as the delay in Judiciary processes to implement protection measures, or lack of adequate emergency kits for survivor girls.

As part of the sensitization strategy for peaceful coexistence, over 193,200 have participated in events and activities online to promote integration and mitigate discrimination since the start of the emergency. Also, over 2 million have been reached on social media via #TuCausaEsMiCausa campaign.

Some 32,800 orientations on shelter, protection, education and documentation have been registered in proGres, since the start of the Emergency. Among the main unmet needs identified, there are basic needs, access to health and other essential services, as well as lack of legal documentation.

As part of the strategy to reduce discrimination, UNHCR and partner Caritas conducted a media workshop and provided tools for human mobility reporting to some 50 journalists working in Cuzco and the Madre de Dios regions.

Remote support

UNHCR has answered over 83,000 calls via hotlines with the support of its partners since the start of the Emergency, where mobility restrictions continue to affect refugees and migrants who are in great need for remote support.

UNHCR supported the “Casa de la Mujer”, a safe shelter run by the Municipality of Lima that provides support to SGBV survivors with the installation of a bio-farm. The process was conducted through a participatory workshop on occupational therapy for women, girls and boys hosted in the shelter. This initiative aims to foster integration between refugees and host communities, strengthen SGBV interventions, while including an environmental and waste management component.

Over 7,620 protection cases have been followed-up through specialized case management services of UNHCR and partners since the start of the Emergency.
