General Context

The Guidelines on Conformity Assessment – ISO/IEC 17024:2012 have been produced in the context of the National Quality Infrastructure Project for Nigeria funded by the European Union. The findings and the relevant case studies are largely based on the experience and lessons learned during the implementation of the project by the executing agency, the United Nations Industrial Development Organisation (UNIDO).

This publication would not have been possible without Dr. Vijay Krishna senior director, credentialing accreditation programs at the American National Standards Institute (ANSI), Dr. Cynthia D. Woodley, psychometrician and exam development expert, Dr. Shaukat H. Malik, chief technical adviser for UNIDO's National Quality Infrastructure Project for Nigeria and Dr. Sharon Goldsmith, internationally recognized expert on standards development, certification, continuing education and accreditation.

Facilitation and coordination have been provided by Dr. Raymond Tavares, Project Manager and Katinka Vigh, Project Associate, National Quality Infrastructure Project for Nigeria, United Nations Industrial Development Organisation (UNIDO).
