or separately, and the Government shall co-operate in arranging, on the basis of the requests received from the Government and approved by the Organisations concerned, mutually agreeable programmes of operations for the carrying out of technical assistance activities.

2. Such technical assistance shall be furnished and received in accordance with the relevant resolutions and decisions of the assemblies, conferences and other organs of the Organisations; technical assistance rendered within the framework of the Expanded Programme of Technical Assistance for Economic Development of Under-Developed Countries shall, in particular, be furnished and received in accordance with the Observations and Guiding Principles set forth in Annex I of Resolution 222 A (IX)¹ of the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations of 15 August 1949.

3. Such technical assistance may consist of :

- (a) making available the services of experts, in order to render advice and assistance to or through the Government ;
- (b) organising and conducting seminars, training programmes, demonstration projects, expert working groups, and related activities in such places as may be mutually agreed ;
- (c) awarding scholarships and fellowships or making other arrangements under which candidates nominated by the Government and approved by the Organisations concerned shall study or receive training outside the country ;
- (d) preparing and executing pilot projects, tests, experiments or research in such places as may be mutually agreed upon ;
- (e) providing any other form of technical assistance which may be agreed upon by the Organisations and the Government.

4. (a) Experts who are to render advice and assistance to or through the Government shall be selected by the Organisations in consultation with the Government. They shall be responsible to the Organisations concerned.

(b) In the performance of their duties, the experts shall act in close consultation with the Government and with persons or bodies so designated by the Government, and shall comply with instructions from the Government as may be appropriate to the nature of their duties and the assistance to be given and as may be mutually agreed upon between the Organisations concerned and the Government.

(c) The experts shall, in the course of their advisory work, make every effort to instruct any technical staff the Government may associate with them, in their professional methods, techniques and practices, and in the principles on which these are based.
